Product description

Moderno Emozione is so special lamp that even her description, you might want to start by itself. It's an intriguing combination of 4 units which system goes beyond specific associations. Some resembles nothing of DNA, other waves of the raging ocean. Undoubtedly, this is something that should decorate the ceiling, bah! All the spacious interior, because it is for a larger space is dedicated.

The modules are wide and 118 cm high at 50-100cm. Such large sizes do not prevent low energy consumption. Power consumption is estimated at 50W. Light emission color is a warm white or cool white. Biel best fits the system with an aluminum surface and glass elements. It is this combination offered designers SKOFF for this model.

It seems that the decorative function here ahead of practical lighting. Today is desirable hanging lamps which are aesthetic decoration in the same way, when emitting light, and in the OFF state. It is worth noting that interior lighting is to emphasize the broadly defined the architecture of the interior, including its decor. His play of light and shadow should also underline the space zone on the presentation of which at most care about.

The manufacturer points out how valuable it is to build the atmosphere. The huge contribution to the mood is still light. With good light with a friendly color it works faster and better, better rests.

Beautifully presented in a large elegant living room, it may be the inventive lighting in a modern conference room, the reception of a luxury hotel, etc.
